2012 Asian New Year Celebration Saturday, January 21st

Asian New Year is the largest and most important annual festival celebrated by Chinese and other Asian descendants around the world. Because this festival is based upon the lunar Chinese calendar, the date changes each year. This year, Asian New Year begins on January 23rd, 2012.

With the mass immigration of all peoples throughout the world, this festival is now celebrated everywhere. This means that we have the opportunity to enter into the lives of our Asian neighbours & friends, and celebrate with them this special day within their culture. We want to learn from them and engage in friendship within the rich cultural mosaic of Calgary as God transforms us into an International Community of Christians at First Baptist Church.

Pastor Jerry and his team have planned a special evening on Saturday, January 21st that includes:

A catered Celebration Meal at both 5:30 & 6:15 pm.

Special music from the Calgary Chinese Traditional Orchestra.

Selections from our (new!) FBC International Choir.

A New Years Celebration Service in the Sanctuary at 7:00 pm.

This is an opportunity to truly celebrate an international event together. So please plan on coming to one of the meals, and staying for the service. You are also encouraged to help in this event – contact Pastor Jerry Wang about this if you can.

Tickets are necessary for the meals and are free of charge. Please pick up a ticket by contacting Renee at the church office. You can reach here at 403-263-5911.

Consider inviting your friends to join you in this celebration, especially those who are new to our city and perhaps our country.
